William Farnum will be seen at the fourth Street Theatre, where "Ra-mona" continues its run, Monday ushering in its fourth week. Litera-ture levers, "Ramona" devotees and playgoers in general admire Clune's inema-drama founded on Helen Hunt Jackson's famous romance, with the result that the capacity of the theatre is taxed twice daily. Interest in the film opera—as "Ramona" has been called because of its elaborate musical score interpreted by fifty-two musicians, instrumental and vocal—is increasing as the length of the en-gagement is extended.

MARIE DORO STAR OF STRAND FILM PLAY.

Theatre will present Marie Doro in "The Heart of Nora Flynn." This screen drama was written for Miss Doro by Hector Turnbull and Jeanse MacPherson. Miss Doro takes the role of a nursemaid in a family of wealth, where her endeavors to bring order into a quarreling household place her under an unjust suspicion. In addiinto a quarrenng munder an unjust suspicion. In addi-tion to "The Heart of Nora Flynn" there will be a short comedy, a cartoon comedy, news pictures and must-

The Star Supreme

Miss Billie Burke

By Special Arrangement With F. ZIEGFELD, Jr.

Supported by HENRY KOLKER A Motion Picture Novel By Mr. & Mr. RUPERT HUGHES

Do you want to see the most costly-the most magnificent-motion picture production that ever has been presented? Do you want to see Billie Burke—charming, adorable, beau-tiful "Billie"—in a motion picture novel by the noted authors, Mr. & Mrs. Rupert Hughes?

Do you want to see Billie Burke in new and especially patterned gowns by Lucile, Henri Bendel and Balcom? Do you want to see Billie Burke in a society romance-a delightfully pleasant picture play the scenes of which are laid in Palm Beach, Florida and in Riverside Drive, New York? Do you want to see a motion picture production that combines such great factors as the star, Billie Burke; the supporting cast, headed by Henry Kolker; the authors, Mr. & Mrs. Rupert Hughes; the producer, George Kleine?

You CAN see all this in George Kleine's million dollar picture novel—Billie Burke in "Gloria's Romance." This costly production represents a new high standard in motion picture schievement a production far above the average. High class theatres everywhere are now arranging to show it. These are the theatres that believe in giving you the best! If your theatre has not yet announced Billie Burke in "Gloria's Romance" ask the manager when it will be shown or write us. Now is the time to ask! Tell us where you want to see it.
